

Presented by Rosemary Beach Foundation, the Annual Music in Pictures is an educational art initiative and juried art contest open to ALL students in grade K-12 in the Walton County school system – both public and private. Created in collaboration with professional musicians and university faculty, Music in Pictures promotes creativity, encourages lifelong appreciation of symphonic music, enhances learning and provides educational enrichment.

Music in Pictures also includes classroom presentation, live performances by Florida State University musicians, professional development workshops for teachers and an Awards Ceremony on May 1, 2016, at Freeport High School.

Over 2,000 students (kindergarten – 12th grade) from 16 Walton County Schools* participated in this year's Music in Pictures. Students learned about the 4 classical composers, listened to the music and then created a picture of their interpretation of the selection while the music was being played.

Each school selected their student paintings for judging and public exhibition. From these entries, the judges selected Best in Show, Judges' Awards, Chairman's Awards, and Medalists. A composer, a visual artist, and a symphony guild member served on the 2016 selection panel.

This year, 372 paintings are displayed from March 7 – April 20, 2016 at the following locations:

- Amavida Coffee and Tea, Rosemary Beach®
- Sacred Heart Hospital on the Emerald Coast, Miramar Beach
- Coastal Branch Library, Santa Rosa Beach

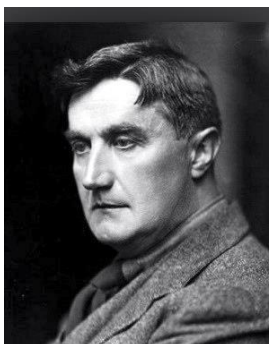

Exhibit viewers may cast their vote for their favorite student painting.

*The Student Art Exhibition features talented artists from these Walton County Schools:

The 5th Annual Music in Pictures celebrated the music of four diverse composers. While the compositions are varied in their style, they all evoke images of flight.

- The Lark Ascending - Ralph Vaughan Williams
- A Flock Descends Into a Pentagonal Garden - Toru Takemitsu
- The Flight of the Bumble Bee - Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakov
- The Ride of the Valkyries - Richard Wagner

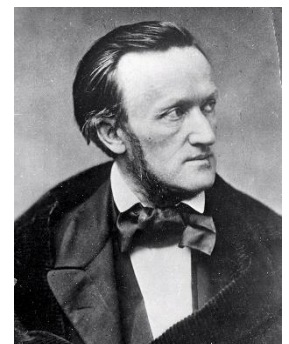

Ralph Vaughan Williams

Toru Takemitsu

Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakov

Richard Wagner

British composer Ralph Vaughan Williams wrote beautiful pastoral and sacred music in the early part of the twentieth century. His music is known for its power, nobility and expressiveness.

Japanese composer Toru Takemitsu created an avant-garde style of music in the mid-twentieth century that incorporated a wide variety of artistic and expressive forms.

Russian composer Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakov's late nineteenth century compositions were steeped in the Russian folk music tradition. He is known as one of the most brilliant and colorful orchestrators in the history of classical music.

German composer Richard Wagner wrote music primarily for opera in the mid nineteenth century. His compositions are known for their complex textures and rich harmonies.
